

Ramon Marimon short biography

Aside from his current affiliations, Ramon Marimon has been Professor of Economics and Pierre Werner Chair at the European University Institute, Professor of Economics at the Universitat Pompeu Fabra and Assistant and Associate Professor at the University of Minnesota. He holds a PhD from Northwestern University. President of the Board of Trustees of the Barcelona School of Economics (2011-2018), President of the Society for Economic Dynamics (2012-2015) and of the Spanish Economic Association (2004), Director of the Max Weber Programme at the EUI (2006-2013). Director of more than thirty PhD theses (UofM, UPF and EUI). He was co-founder of the UPF and dean and professor of Economics and Business (1990 - 1992), and founder and acting director of the CREi (1994). He was Secretary of State for Science and Technology of Spain (2000-2002; creator of the Ramón y Cajal Postdoctoral Programme, among other initiatives of the Ministry of Science and Technology). Advisor to the European Commission on scientific and technological policies (2002 - 2009) and to the European Stability Mechanism (ESM) on debt policies (2022 - 2025). Member of the CEPR research network on European Economic Policy (2018 - 2025). His research interests include Macroeconomics, Monetary and Fiscal Theory, Contract Theory, Expectations Theory and Learning in Economics and the Labour Market, with special emphasis on economic issues of the European Union. He has published in Econometrica, Journal of Political Economy, The Review of Economic Studies, American Economic Review, Journal of Monetary Economics, The Journal of the European Economic Association and other international economic journals; he has also published opinion pieces in El País and Agenda Pública.

August 2025